TODAY'S DOINGS IN THE GOULD DIVORCE CASE.

New York, June 14.—That Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould declined to sign an agreement with her husband that she would abstain from the use of intoxicants, was brought into the divorce case this morning.

The court room was crowded when the case was called. Counsel for Mrs. Gould applied for additional counsel fees of $20,000 and $3,934 for expenses in the case.

Mrs. Gould was first questioned concerning meetings with Dustin Farnum, an actor.

DeLancey Nicol, an attorney for Howard Gould, read from the deposition of Elijah Sells, Mrs. Gould's cousin, in which he stated the conditions offered by Gould for a reconciliation with his wife. The conditions were that she should abstain from drinking, not interfere with his management of Castle Gould and not humiliate Gould before his friends.

Mrs. Gould would not admit the specifications, but said "they had asked her to abstain from intoxicants."

Mrs. Gould's lawyer drew from her that huge bills here and abroad could have been paid had her husband given her an allowance of $10,000 a month he promised her. She said she had to have at Castle Gould morning, afternoon and evening gowns, with accessories that matched. She needed yachting costumes different from the others and they were expensive. She said she was accustomed to change her gowns five or six times a day.

Mrs. Gould gave the following estimates about the cost of various gowns: Dinner, $500 or $600; morning, $100 to $150; day gowns, $500; tea, $300 to $500; reception, $500.

She declared she never wore the same gown twice because it was very bad form and in New York her social position required her to change costume always three or four times a day.

A Program of Merit.

Read the program of the Orchestra Concert printed elsewhere. It is an excellent selection by the best composers and will be a rare musical treat. "Three Dances from Henry VIII" deserve mention. They were composed by Edward German, one of England's most noted composers, at the request of the late Henry Irving, at the time the great actor wished to appear in Shakespeare's Henry VIII with appropriate music. The compositions were difficult to secure for some years and it is doubtful if they have ever been heard west of Chicago. The Symphony Society is to be congratulated on producing them and every music lover in Roswell should attend the Concert on June 14th at the M. E. Church, South. 8812

Mrs. Wychoff At Rest.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Eddie Wychoff, wife of Frank Wychoff, who died at Hope and whose body was brought to Roswell, was held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Higgins at the corner of Fourth street and Virginia avenue. Rev. J. C. Gage, an old friend of the family, gave the funeral sermon and Rev. H. M. Smith assisted in the service. The Woodmen of the World acted as pall bearers. Burial was made in South Side cemetery.

A fire in a trash pile at the rear of the store of Shepherd & Co. brought out the fire department at 9:20 Sunday night.

Will Dreacon has returned from an extended prospecting trip through Mexico. He has decided that Roswell is better.
